Why use URIFRESH ECO™?

Saving money, being more productive and yet sustainable presents challenges to most organisations today. More and more are looking at how to reduce waste and energy whilst enhancing their profitability.

The URIFRESH ECO™ and associated service is essential for your business. It can help protect the environment by eliminating urinal water usage, eradicating urinal energy usage from flush controls or constant flushing and remove the need for harmful and hazardous cleaning chemicals.

In our evolving environment where customer perception is integral to success, providing staff and visitors with a pleasant washroom experience is vital. The URIFRESH ECO™ system combines market leading products to free your urinals from odours and flooding.

The dual patented system reduces blockages that can cause unsightly, overflowing urinals. The URIFRESH ECO™ solution improves the washroom hygiene and services, thus ensuring your staff and visitors have a positive view of your business and premises.

A complete, environmentally friendly, urinal hygiene service

Urinal flushing is one of the worst offenders when it comes to excess water consumption in buildings. Not only is there huge wastage but rising water charges mean that it is a problem your business cannot afford to ignore.

The URIFRESH ECO™ system, utilising our pioneering technology, provides a cost effective and environmentally friendly solution that can eradicate urinal water consumption. URIFRESH ECO™ is proven to eliminate urinal flooding and provide a more hygienic and odour free solution.

UNIQUE FEATURES

1. Cartridge

2. Debris Catcher

3. Hygiene Seal

4. Flow Continuity

A urinal flushing 4 times per hour with a 9 litre cistern will flush away 315360 litres of drinking water per year.

That's a cost of between €880 and €1190 to you and 108kg CO₂e to the environment.

URIFRESH ECO waterless urinals fit 98% of all existing urinals and are guaranteed odour and blockage free.
